Istanbul

The Quartet played HERE!*

The Clock Collection in display at the Topkapi Palace, Divit Hall on May 25, 2012 was made up of 380 mechanical clocks as diplomatic gifts to the Sultans or made by Turkish clock makers, put together by the Ottoman imperial family over a period of 4 centuries: the 16 - 19th. The most outstanding piece was considered to be made by the renowned Breguet in 1813 as a gift to Sultan Mahmud II, named "Pendule Sympathique".

The cellist, Tokay says: I wished we had indoors without the sound of the rain and people's talking!
